Life is like a circle .You try everything to change yourself.But you still make the same mistakes again and again .

Would it be better that you never try to change ?Or ,we 'd better not know what was wrong.Then we will never feel sorry about ourselves.

God show something wrong but immutable to us .Will he feel pleased when he saw we are too weak to change anything.

I feel so lonely deep in my heart.'m not alone .I have many friends around me .I can eat with them ,I can talk to them ,wecan go shopping together.But it is not enough to me .

Do you believe we are born broken. So it won't be strange that we can never be full of anything. We are still hungry after eat,and we could never stop drinking.

What is waiting for us ?A happy ending or nothing ?
