'Allo.

I'm Freja or Bio, whichever you'd rather call me, and I have just joined here. About me: I am a 16 year old girl who lives in the UK and love reading, writing, drawing, music, languages, history and politics. I nearly always title my journals with a line from a song which I like at the time/am listening to. Current one is from Sent to Destroy by Combichrist.

I'll probably end up using this blog to dump random pieces of character development and whathaveyou from what I'm writing. Note that my char.dev never makes much sense and generally involves--lighters in bras, small Germans screaming at Americans, creepy transhumans, people having hallucinations about cabaret acts, etc. Yeah...people will probably avoid me like the plague, now x)

...so yeah. Not much else to say.
